

Ceed
Sow the Seeds

Supported by UNIVERSITY OF THE
WEST OF SCOTLAND
UWS

CE | ED | Ceed
Centre for Engineering
Education & Development

SOW THE SEEDS FOR BUSINESS GROWTH!

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

- Are you an early-stage company?
- Do you have challenges in prototyping and scaling your manufacturing or have engineering challenges?
- Do you have a product or service that can help unlock other established manufacturing or engineering company's challenges?

If so, Ceed - in partnership with University of the West of Scotland - can help by supporting you through our established peer to peer network of knowledge exchange bolstered by a series of tailored CPD. And it's free!

Sow the Seeds is an initiative, proudly supported by the Scottish Ecosystem Fund 2023-24, which has brought together our successful peer-to-peer services along with our CeeDucation programme and our innovation offerings into a structured offering which is designed to accelerate your journey.

It is specifically tailored to provide early-stage and start up companies with access to a full network of established companies and organisations along with a suite of tailored CPD.

We are currently looking to on-board suitable companies.

FREE TO JOIN FOR EARLY STAGE & START-UP BUSINESSES

startups@ceed-scotland.com

CONTACT US

Onboarding and joining this cohort will enable you to:

1. Unlock manufacturing challenges with practical advice and know how;
2. Support to find capability to manufacture prototypes early scale up and production;
3. Test product ideas with potential customer in a focus group and 1-2-1 sessions;
4. Access first-hand knowledge and exposure of manufacturing and engineering excellence;
5. Access to and join a peer-to-peer knowledge network; and
6. Access a suite of key business support modules.

Contact Us

For more information about the programme and to register:

startups@ceed-scotland.com

www.ceed-scotland.com